

On Determination of Certain Conductivity Distribution via Partial Boundary Measurements

Igor Trushin

Shinshu University
Japan
trushin@shinshu-u.ac.jp

We investigate an inverse problem to identify conductivity of special type via single Dirichlet-Neumann partial boundary measurement in the case of rectangle domain and conductivity depending on only one variable.